CIRCULAR

Subject: - Streamlining of Expenditure.

It is observed that very few treasuries have booked the expenditure and most of the treasuries have spent the allotted budget to negligible extent. In order to streamline the expenditure, the allotted budget should be spent equally throughout the financial year.

In this connection, it is impressed upon all the Treasury officers to spend the allotted budget under each unit of appropriation (i.e. 50% of budget estimates that has already been released by this Directorate) by end of the second quarter of financial year in order to avoid rush of expenditure at the fag end of the financial year. Similar instructions should also be issued to all the DDO's operating upon your treasuries.
